

INTERCONNECTED FUTURES PARTNERSHIP OPPORTUNITY

2026
CONFERENCE

May 1-3 | Waterloo, Ontario, Canada

ACCELERATE YOUR IMPACT

ABOUT US

PEGASUS Institute is a Canadian charity that aims to build an effective collaborative network that promotes the interconnection of peace, environmental sustainability, and health for all. We do this by engaging in collaborative knowledge exchange, network formation, and research activities, centering principles of justice, equity, and human rights.

OUR VISION: To create an effective collaborative network that promotes the interconnection of peace, environmental sustainability, and health for all.

OUR MISSION: To engage in collaborative knowledge exchange, network formation, and research activities that address the interconnections between peace, environmental sustainability, and health for all.

PEGASUS Institute was developed from a series of bi-annual conferences that have taken place since 2014, seeking to address global health challenges through a lens of peace and sustainability. The Institute was developed in recognition of the importance of ongoing work, strategies, and platforms to advance global health, peace, and sustainability.

ABOUT THE EVENT

From May 1-3, 2026, The PEGASUS Institute's upcoming conference, Interconnected Futures: Pathways to Justice in Global Health, Peace, and Environmental Sustainability, will be a cutting-edge and visionary gathering, bringing together academics, researchers, policymakers, organizations, and community members from across the world to address current and critical global challenges at the intersection of health (internationally and locally), peace, and environmental sustainability. In addition to these streams, there will be a refugee stream. At the heart of the conference is a commitment to equity and justice, ensuring that the solutions we create are inclusive, transformative, and globally relevant.

With an anticipated turnout of 250 in-person and 150 online attendees, the conference will provide a platform for interdisciplinary dialogue, collaboration, and the development of innovative solutions that aim to tackle the most pressing issues of our time. There will also be pre-conference and satellite events, and abstract presentations, adding to the dynamism and richness of the event. Your support as a partner will play a crucial role in making this event possible and will position your organization as a key contributor to advancing global health, peace, and environmental sustainability.

Conference Objectives:

01

Promote International, Interdisciplinary Collaboration:

Engage stakeholders from the fields of health, peacebuilding, and environmental sustainability, fostering cross-sector collaboration to address shared challenges.

02

Advance Global Knowledge Sharing:

Foster the exchange of best practices, research, and innovative solutions that integrate these interconnected fields to address the world's most urgent challenges.

03

Engage Diverse Stakeholders:

Amplify the voices of equity-seeking communities, including Indigenous peoples, BIPOC, immigrants, refugees, and voices from the Global South, ensuring inclusivity in global conversations.

04

Drive Actionable Outcomes:

Encourage post-conference initiatives such as collaborative research, publications, multimedia projects, and webinars to ensure the conference has a lasting impact.
